

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

between

(Unioeste) – Parana Western State University

Parana State - Brazil

and

(GLA University)

(Mathura- U.P, India)

Let noble thoughts come to us from every side.

To encourage academic relations and promote international understanding, Parana Western State University, Parana, Brazil, and GLA University, Mathura, India, have established an agreement of friendship and collaboration. In signing this agreement, both institutions acknowledge a commitment to develop an academic relationship in the following areas of mutual interest and benefit.

We are willing to have this collaboration for academic and educational cooperation which can include things like:

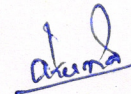

- Jointly organizing conferences, Seminars, Workshops
- Faculty / Research Scholar Exchange or Student Exchange
- Research Projects
- Post Doctoral Research
- Internship/short term visits related to academic/research
- Joint research and meetings for education and research
- Material exchange for education and research
- Academic Writing
- Culture and Literature

We are not limited to these points for collaboration; we are open to more suggestions that can be of mutual benefits. We believe this initiation will be a highly rewarding educational and academic for both of us.

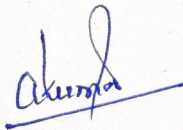

Predicting what lies in the future is virtually impossible, but whatever it brings, we are sure of our long term relationship and your kind patronage.

The further details of the MOU will be worked out in future.
